PORTLAND, WONDAY, DEC 6, 1886

The grounds of objection to the board of immigration, as set forth by local papers in different parts of the state, are various, but the most general, perhaps, grows out of the fact that the office of the board is at Portland From that the ence of the board is at rorthage from this fact as a basis, it is assumed that the board is a Portland institution, and that it exists solely for Portland's advantage The Dallas Itemize; refers to it as benefiting "not the whole state, but a little cotaire in Portland who depend upon crumbe from the state table to fill their hungry bellies. We have of late seen many other critzcisms in the came spirit, although none, we be lieve, so coarsely expressed. immigration has not the privilege of disposition, that it cannot settle immigrants here or there at its own will All it can do is to furthere at its own will all it can do is to run-nish information to those who wish it. Immi-grants arriving at Portland, as they do at the rate of perhaps eight hundred per week, want to know many things about the country, where to go, when to go and how to go.
